KIIT Deemed to be University
Online End Semester Examination(Spring Semester-2021)

Subject Name & Code: Leadership in Organization (BM 3102)
Applicable to Courses: BBA

Full Marks=50 Time:2 Hours

SET II

SECTION-A(Answer All Questions. Each question carries 2 Marks)

Time:30 Minutes (7×2=14 Marks)

Question No	Question Type (MCQ/SAT)	Question	COMapping	Answer Key (For MCQ Questions only)
Q.No:1		Question -1 In contrast to his or her southern counterpart, the stereotypical U.S. northern manager is likely to be a. laid back and interested in relationship building. b. brusque and impatient for results. c. concerned about gender differences. d. concerned about conducting business ethically.		B
		Question -2 To motivate foreign workers to actually buy, the sales representative should be a. multicultural. b. multilingual. c. aggressive. d. ethnocentric.		A
		Question -3 Of the following, the least likely to be a source of cultural misunderstanding is a. language differences. b. work habits. c. women's roles. d. entertaining in restaurants.		D
		Question -4 Which one of the following is not one of the three components of cultural intelligence? a. Cognitive CQ (head) b. Financial CQ (wallet) c. Physical CQ (body)		B

		d. Emotional/motivational CQ (heart)
Q.No:2		Question -1 Passion for the work on the part of a leader often expresses itself as a(n) a. obsession for achieving company goals. b. distrust of employees who are calm and relaxed. c. obsession for surfing the Internet during working hours. d. tendency to engage in ruthless cost cutting.		A
		Question -2 A person with high emotional intelligence is likely to a. become overly enthusiastic during a meeting. b. build strong personal bonds with people. c. be particularly well suited for performing analytical work. d. avoid stressful situations involving people.		B
		Question -3 Research about emotional intelligence and leadership concludes that a. emotional intelligence alone leads to career success. b. emotional intelligence combined with ambition accounts for 9 c. general intelligence and technical skills are the most important d. a leader's mood and associated behaviors affect bottom-line pe		D
		Question -4 A leader with an internal locus of control a. is often low in self-confidence. b. is often interpreted by group members as being weak. c. sees environmental factors as causing most events. d. takes responsibility for events happening.		D
Q.No:3		Question -1 An ethical screen is used primarily when facing a decision that a. is in opposition to the organizational culture. b. affects the majority of employees within the firm. c. is not obviously ethical or blatantly unethical. d. is widely recognized as criminal behavior.		C
		Question -2 Which one of the following questions in an ethical screen deals with the principle of reversibility? a. How does it smell? b. What would you tell your child, sibling, or young relative to d c. Who gets hurt? d. Is it fair?		B
		Question -3 A major problem noted with extreme unethical behavior in the executive suite is that such behavior has a. brought companies into bankruptcy. b. led to investor distrust in the stock market. c. led to layoffs of thousands of workers.		D

		d. all of these choices.
		Question -4 Corporate social responsibility centers on a firm's a. contributions to charity. b. responsibility to society. c. adherence to laws. d. adherence to ethics.		B
Q.No:4		Question -1 A major mechanism for developing teamwork is a. frequent informal communication among members. b. personal goal setting. c. the team leader occupying a position of power. d. carefully following work procedures.		A
		Question -2 A recommended way of being a model of teamwork is to a. share power with team members. b. retain most of the power. c. keep as much information secret as possible. d. limit interactions with teammates.		A
		Question -3 Team members are more likely to commit to the consensus decision if a. debate on the issue at hand was suppressed. b. their voices are heard. c. the idea came from outside the group. d. the decision was decided by a vote.		B
		tion -4 A recommended tactic for developing teamwork is to explain to the team that it has a. to produce good results or be downsized. b. an urgent, constructive purpose. c. ample time to develop a purpose. d. failed so far.		B
Q.No:5		Question -1 The feeling of being proud is essentially a(n) a. external motivator. b. internal motivator. c. weak motivator for professional staff. d. weak motivator for leaders.		B
		Question -2 For pride to work well as a motivator, the manager should a. celebrate only the accomplishment of major goals. b. establish financial rewards for workers being proud. c. set his or compass on money. d. set his or her compass on pride.		D

		Question -3 According to equity theory, workers are likely to be motivated when they a. receive higher rewards than people performing similar work. b. have high job satisfaction. c. believe that they are treated equitably. d. compare their inputs with their outputs.		C
		Question -4 An implication of equity theory for the leader/manager to keep in mind is that subordinates should a. perceive that they are receiving above-average rewards. b. be motivated with a stick rather than a carrot. c. be motivated with a carrot rather than a stick. d. perceive themselves to be getting a fair deal.		D
Q.No:6		Question -1 An important way of inspiring people is to a. satisfy their lower-level needs. b. satisfy their higher-level needs. c. implement tight control mechanisms. d. implement loose control mechanisms.		B
		Question -2 A direct way of being a supportive leader is to a. provide considerable structure to group members. b. give frequent encouragement and praise. c. engage heavily in goal setting. d. establish the right values and principles.		B
		Question -3 A top leader is supposed to help promote values and principles that a. encourage employees to compete against one another. b. line up squarely with company advertising. c. create a public image of harmony. d. contribute to the welfare of individuals and the organization.		D
		Question -4 The major thrust of the servant leader is to a. work on the behalf of group members to help them achieve their goals. b. act humble yet search for individual glory. c. think first in terms of the stockholder. d. place self-interest before service.		A
Q.No:7		Question -1 A contingency leadership perspective is that the leader's behavior is profoundly influenced by the a. leader's personality. b. situation. c. leader's rank.		B

		d. leader's charisma.
		Question -2 In Fiedler's contingency theory, the most important dimension of the situation for determining situational control is a. position power. b. leader-member relations. c. personal power. d. task structure.		B
		Question -3 The general point of Fiedler's contingency theory of leadership is that the best style of leadership is determined by a. the leader's personality. b. how well the leader gets along with group members. c. a balance of task and relationship factors. d. the situation in which a leader works.		D
		Question -4 Following Fiedler's contingency model, a leader can increase situational control by a. decreasing the task structure for group members. b. creating conflict between himself or herself and group member c. increasing his or her position power. d. increasing the demands on group members.		C

SECTION-B(Answer Any Three Questions. Each Question carries 12 Marks)

Time: 1 Hour and 30 Minutes (3×12=36 Marks)

Question No	Question	CO Mapping (Each question should be from the same CO(s))
Q.No:8	Q.No:8-1st question Define diversity in the work place. Discuss the competitive advantage of demographic and cultural diversity.
	Q.No:8-2nd question Discuss the ten major dimensions of cultural values. How do they contribute to the effectiveness of a multicultural leader.

	Q.No:8-3rd question As a leader what initiatives would you take to achieve cultural diversity in the work place?
Q.No:9	Q.No:9-1st question What is emotional intelligence? How is it linked to leadership effectiveness?
	Q.No:9-2nd question Emotional Intelligence (EI) rather than Rational Intelligence (IQ) is the essence of leadership effectiveness. Discuss.
	Q.No:9-3rd question Motives such as power, achievement, strong work ethic and tenacity drive leadership effectiveness. Discuss.
Q.No:10	Q.No:10-1st question Define charisma. How does a charismatic leader contribute to the process of vision building in the organization?
	Q.No:10-2nd question Discuss the initiatives that an effective leader must introduce to bring about transformation in the workplace.
	Q.No:10-3rd question Explain the personal attributes of the transformational leader.
Q.No:11	Q.No:11-1st question Discuss with the help of a diagram Fiedler's contingency theory of leadership.
	Q.No:11-2nd question As the business environment becomes increasingly dynamic and complex, a business leader has to adopt a contingency leadership style to be effective. Discuss.
	Q.No:11-3rd question Explain the major attributes and behaviours that help a leader successfully manage an organization facing a crisis situation.

KIIT Deemed to be University
Online End Semester Examination(Spring Semester-2021)

Subject Name & Code: Leadership in Organization (BM 3102)
Applicable to Courses: BBA

Full Marks=50 Time:2 Hours

SET II

SECTION-A(Answer All Questions. Each question carries 2 Marks)

Time:30 Minutes (7×2=14 Marks)

Question No	Question Type (MCQ/SAT)	Question	CO Mapping	Answer Key (For MCQ Questions only)
Q.No:1		Question -1 In contrast to his or her southern counterpart, the stereotypical U.S. northern manager is likely to be a. laid back and interested in relationship building. b. brusque and impatient for results. c. concerned about gender differences. d. concerned about conducting business ethically.		B
		Question -2 To motivate foreign workers to actually buy, the sales representative should be a. multicultural. b. multilingual. c. aggressive. d. ethnocentric.		A
		Question -3 Of the following, the least likely to be a source of cultural misunderstanding is a. language differences. b. work habits. c. women's roles. d. entertaining in restaurants.		D
		Question -4 Which one of the following is not one of the three components of cultural intelligence? a. Cognitive CQ (head) b. Financial CQ (wallet) c. Physical CQ (body)		B

		d. Emotional/motivational CQ (heart)
Q.No:2		Question -1 Passion for the work on the part of a leader often expresses itself as a(n) a. obsession for achieving company goals. b. distrust of employees who are calm and relaxed. c. obsession for surfing the Internet during working hours. d. tendency to engage in ruthless cost cutting.		A
		Question -2 A person with high emotional intelligence is likely to a. become overly enthusiastic during a meeting. b. build strong personal bonds with people. c. be particularly well suited for performing analytical work. d. avoid stressful situations involving people.		B
		Question -3 Research about emotional intelligence and leadership concludes that a. emotional intelligence alone leads to career success. b. emotional intelligence combined with ambition accounts for 9(c. general intelligence and technical skills are the most important d. a leader's mood and associated behaviors affect bottom-line pe		D
		Question -4 A leader with an internal locus of control a. is often low in self-confidence. b. is often interpreted by group members as being weak. c. sees environmental factors as causing most events. d. takes responsibility for events happening.		D
Q.No:3		Question -1 An ethical screen is used primarily when facing a decision that a. is in opposition to the organizational culture. b. affects the majority of employees within the firm. c. is not obviously ethical or blatantly unethical. d. is widely recognized as criminal behavior.		C
		Question -2 Which one of the following questions in an ethical screen deals with the principle of reversibility? a. How does it smell? b. What would you tell your child, sibling, or young relative to d(c. Who gets hurt? d. Is it fair?		B
		Question -3 A major problem noted with extreme unethical behavior in the executive suite is that such behavior has a. brought companies into bankruptcy. b. led to investor distrust in the stock market.		D

		c. led to layoffs of thousands of workers. d. all of these choices.
		Question -4 Corporate social responsibility centers on a firm's a. contributions to charity. b. responsibility to society. c. adherence to laws. d. adherence to ethics.		B
Q.No:4		Question -1 A major mechanism for developing teamwork is a. frequent informal communication among members. b. personal goal setting. c. the team leader occupying a position of power. d. carefully following work procedures.		A
		Question -2 A recommended way of being a model of teamwork is to a. share power with team members. b. retain most of the power. c. keep as much information secret as possible. d. limit interactions with teammates.		A
		Question -3 Team members are more likely to commit to the consensus decision if a. debate on the issue at hand was suppressed. b. their voices are heard. c. the idea came from outside the group. d. the decision was decided by a vote.		B
		tion -4 A recommended tactic for developing teamwork is to explain to the team that it has a. to produce good results or be downsized. b. an urgent, constructive purpose. c. ample time to develop a purpose. d. failed so far.		B
Q.No:5		Question -1 The feeling of being proud is essentially a(n) a. external motivator. b. internal motivator. c. weak motivator for professional staff. d. weak motivator for leaders.		B
		Question -2 For pride to work well as a motivator, the manager should a. celebrate only the accomplishment of major goals. b. establish financial rewards for workers being proud. c. set his or compass on money.		D

		d. set his or her compass on pride.
		Question -3 According to equity theory, workers are likely to be motivated when they a. receive higher rewards than people performing similar work. b. have high job satisfaction. c. believe that they are treated equitably. d. compare their inputs with their outputs.		C
		Question -4 An implication of equity theory for the leader/manager to keep in mind is that subordinates should a. perceive that they are receiving above-average rewards. b. be motivated with a stick rather than a carrot. c. be motivated with a carrot rather than a stick. d. perceive themselves to be getting a fair deal.		D
Q.No:6		Question -1 An important way of inspiring people is to a. satisfy their lower-level needs. b. satisfy their higher-level needs. c. implement tight control mechanisms. d. implement loose control mechanisms.		B
		Question -2 A direct way of being a supportive leader is to a. provide considerable structure to group members. b. give frequent encouragement and praise. c. engage heavily in goal setting. d. establish the right values and principles.		B
		Question -3 A top leader is supposed to help promote values and principles that a. encourage employees to compete against one another. b. line up squarely with company advertising. c. create a public image of harmony. d. contribute to the welfare of individuals and the organization.		D
		Question -4 The major thrust of the servant leader is to a. work on the behalf of group members to help them achieve their goals. b. act humble yet search for individual glory. c. think first in terms of the stockholder. d. place self-interest before service.		A
Q.No:7		Question -1 A contingency leadership perspective is that the leader's behavior is profoundly influenced by the a. leader's personality. b. situation.		B

		c. leader's rank. d. leader's charisma.
		Question -2 In Fiedler's contingency theory, the most important dimension of the situation for determining situational control is a. position power. b. leader-member relations. c. personal power. d. task structure.		B
		Question -3 The general point of Fiedler's contingency theory of leadership is that the best style of leadership is determined by a. the leader's personality. b. how well the leader gets along with group members. c. a balance of task and relationship factors. d. the situation in which a leader works.		D
		Question -4 Following Fiedler's contingency model, a leader can increase situational control by a. decreasing the task structure for group members. b. creating conflict between himself or herself and group member c. increasing his or her position power. d. increasing the demands on group members.		C

SECTION-B(Answer Any Three Questions. Each Question carries 12 Marks)

Time: 1 Hour and 30 Minutes (3×12=36 Marks)

Question No	Question	CO Mapping (Each question should be from the same CO(s))
Q.No:8	Q.No:8-1st question Define diversity in the work place. Discuss the competitive advantage of demographic and cultural diversity.
	Q.No:8-2nd question Discuss the ten major dimensions of cultural values. How do they contribute to the effectiveness of a multicultural leader.

	Q.No:8-3rd question As a leader what initiatives would you take to achieve cultural diversity in the work place?
Q.No:9	Q.No:9-1st question What is emotional intelligence? How is it linked to leadership effectiveness?
	Q.No:9-2nd question Emotional Intelligence (EI) rather than Rational Intelligence (IQ) is the essence of leadership effectiveness. Discuss.
	Q.No:9-3rd question Motives such as power, achievement, strong work ethic and tenacity drive leadership effectiveness. Discuss.
Q.No:10	Q.No:10-1st question Define charisma. How does a charismatic leader contribute to the process of vision building in the organization?
	Q.No:10-2nd question Discuss the initiatives that an effective leader must introduce to bring about transformation in the workplace.
	Q.No:10-3rd question Explain the personal attributes of the transformational leader.
Q.No:11	Q.No:11-1st question Discuss with the help of a diagram Fiedler's contingency theory of leadership.
	Q.No:11-2nd question As the business environment becomes increasingly dynamic and complex, a business leader has to adopt a contingency leadership style to be effective. Discuss.
	Q.No:11-3rd question Explain the major attributes and behaviours that help a leader successfully manage an organization facing a crisis situation.	